

Casey's Law: A perspective from three different counties

Clay
Hardin
Jefferson

Why prosecute Casey's Law and does forced rehab really work?

- Statistics
- Hope for families in crisis
- Success stories

Process in Each County

- Typical petitioner and respondent
- Where does the petitioner start the process?

Process in Each County

- Who evaluates and completes the certifications?
- What treatment facility is chosen?

Process in Each County

- How does each court handle these cases?
- What is the public defender's position?

Consequences for Noncompliance

A 3D illustration of a maze with a small blue figure standing in a path, symbolizing challenges. The maze is composed of dark grey walls and light grey paths. The figure is a simple, stylized human shape in a medium blue color. The lighting creates soft shadows, giving the scene a three-dimensional feel.

Challenges in Casey's Law

- Not immediate
- Potential cost to petitioner
- Lack of evaluators
- Jury trials
- Respondents with psychiatric or medical needs

Casey's Law

Questions

Comments

Concerns

